

Ordklasser 2

Understreg alle adjektiver (tillægsord) i teksten

1. Denmark has an extensive network of official tourist offices where you can receive professional and friendly guidance and help planning your Danish holiday.
2. Most tourist offices can assist with the booking of accommodation and experiences and all of them have a large selection of brochures and various sources of useful information.
3. Whether you're looking for inspiration or information, your local tourist office can help. Tourist offices with a green L-sign posted outside offer their services in English, German and Danish.
4. As well as information on the local area, they can also help you with trips to and information on different parts of the country.

Understreg alle præpositioner (forholdsord) i teksten

1. On Valentine's Day the radio stations play love songs from morning till night. This might get people in the right mood for their Valentine date.
2. People in the USA celebrate Halloween on October 31st. Halloween has been celebrated since long time before Christ. It originates from the time when Ireland was ruled by the Celts. It was a time to give thanks for the harvest.
5. The woods behind our house are super creepy at night. You can hear owls hooting to each other. I would certainly be afraid of walking through the woods at midnight.
5. She walked backwards towards the door. She could see someone behind the curtain and there was fear in her eyes. In order to get out of the room she reached for the door knob and tried to flee into the corridor. At last she succeeded in getting away through the flights of stairs.